Color Scheme:

This is my planned color palette. I may alter the colors a little depending on how they appear on the website. Use in order from left to right: accent, accent, background, accent, text. I'll also be using black and white for certain parts of the website.
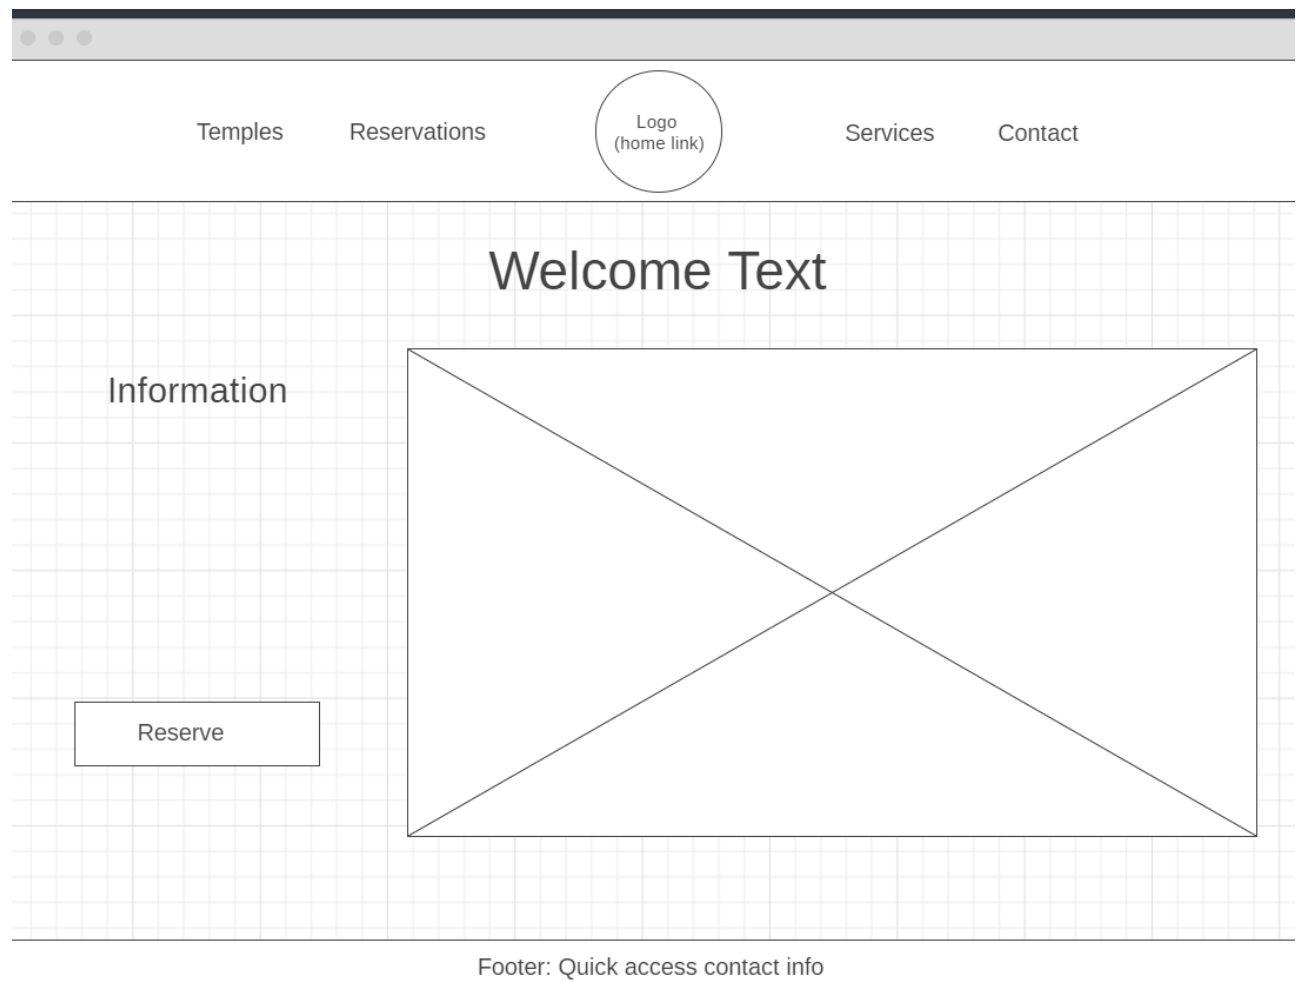

Typography: These are two potential fonts I'll be using. I'm going to pick the one I like better once I've created the basic website.

Wireframe Sketches:

After brainstorming a little, I wanted to try a new design that would be clean and kind of unique looking. I'm hoping it turns out how I picture it.
